Über mich

I can be a start-up consultant or act as a coach for start-up teams. Thematic priorities may be biomedicine, health economics, medical technology. Above all, I can give you information about the business plan here. I also offer contact initiation and support of the teams to industrial partners (such as pharmaceuticals, biothec, medtech companies) and also to investors, banks and other partners for the founding teams. Finally, I can train you in professional business etiquette, also with regard to international intricacies, so that your discussion with external (non-academic) partners can take place without "formal damage".
